Kate and Stewart good freakin job so yeah guys do not trust these fake PSN generators they're ours they just give you a virus they're not even true you guys can see that these are all fake only global people freak and fall for this crap it's not true not one of these will work trust me guys so the only thing that they want from you is to get your computer a virus or there are some even worse ones where they actually tell you to sign in with your local PlayStation account and that's when they hack your whole account so you guys can't get that back so watch out for these sites guys I'm warning you do not do these they just want your account your money stolen or credit card stuff stolen so do not do these guys so yeah this has been the PIA same code experiment do not do this you I can see none of these things ever work for me they either want me to download something which is obviously a virus so yeah comment down below what you guys think of this like do these sites should even be allowed here like I don't know like I think these should be banned from freaking websites like all of these should be banned people behind these are freaking all they want are money so yeah guys subscribe if you're new you know like if you enjoyed and yeah guys do not do this and as always thanks for watching.
